

Labelled With Love

Squeeze

[D]She unscrews the top of her new whisky bottle
 And shuffles around in her [A] candelit hovel
 Like some kind of witch, with blue fingers in mittens
 She smells like the cat and the neighbours she [D] sickens

Her black and white TV has long seen a picture
 The [D7] cross on the wall is a [G] permanent picture
 The [A] postman delivers, the final reminders
 She sells off her silver and [G]Poo [F#m]dles [Em] in [D] china

CHORUS

[D] Drinks to remember I [Em7] me and myself
 [A] winds up the clock and knocks dust from the [D] shelf
 Home is a love that I [Em] miss very much
 So the [A] past has been bottled and [G]La [F#m]bled [Em]with [D] love

[D]During the wartime and American pilot
 Made every air-raid a [A] time of excitement
 She moved to his prairie, and married the Texan
 She'd learn from a distance how love was a [D] lesson

He became drinker and she became mother
 She [D7] knew that one day she'd be [G] one or the other
 He [A] ate himself old and drank himself dizzy
 Proud of her features she [G] kept [F#m]her [Em] self [D] pretty

CHORUS

[D] Drinks to remember I [Em7] me and myself
 [A] winds up the clock and knocks dust from the [D] shelf
 Home is a love that I [Em] miss very much
 So the [A] past has been bottled and [G]La [F#m]bled [Em]with [D] love

[D]He like a cowboy died drunk in a slumber
 Out on the porch in the [A] middle of summer
 She crossed the ocean, back home to her family
 But they had retired to roads that are [D] sandy

She moved home alone without friends or relations
[D7]Lived in a world full of [G] age reservations
Her [A] moth eaten armchair, she'd say that she'd sod all
Friends who have left her to [G]drink [F#m] from [Em] the [D] bottle

CHORUS

[D] Drinks to remember I [Em7] me and myself
[A] winds up the clock and knocks dust from the [D] shelf
Home is a love that I [Em] miss very much
So the [A] past has been bottled and [G]La [F#m]bled [Em]with [D] love

So the [A] past has been bottled and [G]La [F#m]bled [[Em]with [D] love
(SLOWLY) So the [A] past has been bottled and [G]La [F#m]bled [Em]with [D] love