Bob Dylan

[D] You got a [Em] lotta nerve, to [G] say you are my [D] friend
When I was [A] down, [G] you just stood there [A] grinning

[D] You got a [Em] lotta nerve, To [G] say you got a helping hand to [D] lend
[A] You just want to be [G] on, the side that's [A] winning

[D] You say I [Em] let you down [G] you know it's not like [D] that If you're so [A] hurt [G] why then don't you [A] show it

[D] You say you [Em] lost your faith [G] but that's not where it's [D] at
You [A] had no [G] faith to lose and you [A] know it

[D] No, I do not [Em] feel that good [G] when I see the heartbreaks you em[D] brace

[A] If I was a master [G] thief perhaps I'd [A] rob them

[D] And now I know you're dis[Em]satisfied with your [G] position and your [D] place,

[A] Don't you under[G]stand it's not my [A] problem

[D] I wish that for [Em] just one time [G] You could stand inside my [D] shoes
And [A] just for that one [G] moment I could [A] be you

[D] Yes, I wish that for [Em] just one time [G] You could stand inside my [D] shoes
[A] You'd know what a [G] drag it is To [A] see you [A/D]
